

Selected General References

These books, together with the sources specifically mentioned in the Level II Content Outline, can provide some of the job knowledge required by a video security systems designer.

CCTV Field Service / Installation Manual, Charlie Pierce, LeapFrog Training and Consulting

CCTV Networking and Digital Technology, Vlado Damjanovski, Butterworth-Heinemann

CCTV Systems Design and Installation, Bryan McLane, National Training Center, Inc.

How Networks Work, Frank J. Derfler, Jr., Que

Low Voltage Wiring, John E. Traister, McGraw-Hill

Masterformat, Construction Specifications Institute (2004)

McGraw-Hill Illustrated Telecom Dictionary, Jade Clayton, McGraw-Hill

National Electrical Code, National Fire Protection Association (2005)

Network Cabling for Contractors, Daniel E. Capano, McGraw-Hill

Network + Certification Study Guide, Glen E. Clarke, McGraw-Hill

Professional's Guide to CCTV, Charlie Pierce, LeapFrog Training and Consulting

Project Management, Michael S. Dobson, Adams Media Corporation

RS-232 Made Easy, Martin D. Seyer, Prentice-Hall

Total Construction Project Management, George J. Ritz, McGraw-Hill

-
- This listing is not intended to be complete or representative.
 - In all cases, we suggest that the most recent edition of the publication be used.